

Trained Service Animals

Allegiant welcomes passengers traveling with a trained service animal(s). A service animal is individually trained to assist individuals in mitigating one or more disabilities by performing a specific task(s).*

Ensuring the safety of all passengers, crew, airport personnel, and animals traveling on Allegiant is and always will be Allegiant's top priority. To that end, we require all passengers traveling with trained service animals have their licensed veterinarian complete the following form, which will assist us in determining whether an animal poses a direct threat to the health or safety of others. Additionally, please note:

- Allegiant transports domestic dogs, cats and miniature horses, except that pit bull and pit bull-type breeds are prohibited on Allegiant flights
- Passengers may travel with up to three (3) trained service animals if required to perform work or tasks directly related to the passenger's disability
- Service animals may only occupy the passenger's purchased space in accordance with FAA safety regulations. The animal may lie under the seat immediately in front of the passenger or travel on the passenger's lap if the animal is no larger than an approximately 30-lb child.
 - If the passenger's service animal(s) is/are not capable of occupying the disabled passenger's foot space with essentially no encroachment upon other space, the passenger may be required to purchase a second seat to accommodate the animal.
- Passengers accompanied by trained service animal(s) are required to present a fully completed Veterinarian Health Form for each animal to an Allegiant representative at check-in for each flight.

Many of your questions may be answered by visiting our website at allegiantair.com/passengers-special-needs.

If you are unable to find an answer, please contact Allegiant at allegiantair.com/customer-request-assistance. Or you may contact Customer Care at 702-505-8888. Please note wait times may vary depending on the time of day.

* In all cases the work or tasks performed by a service animal must be directly related to the individual's disability, such as a fully trained animal assisting an individual who is blind or has low vision with navigation and other tasks. The provision by an animal of emotional support, well-being, comfort or companionship does not constitute work or tasks; please visit allegiantair.com/passengers-special-needs for forms applicable to such animals (Emotional Support/Psychiatric Service Animals).

Trained Service Animal Veterinary Health Form

Passenger Name: _____

Animal Name: _____

Animal Breed: _____

Is the animal a pit-bull type breed? YES / NO

Please note Allegiant does not transport pit-bull or pit-bull type breeds.

Veterinarian Name: _____

License Number & Expiration Date: _____

State License was Issued by: _____

Most Recent Date Animal was Examined: _____

Most Recent Date of Rabies Vaccine & Valid thru: _____

Is the animal over the age of 4 months?

Please note Allegiant does not transport service animals under the age of 4 months.

YES / NO

When most recently examined, did the animal appear to be free of infectious or contagious disease that could endanger other animals or public health?

YES / NO

Is the animal fully task trained to mitigate a disability?

YES / NO

To my knowledge (Select one of the following):

_____ The animal HAS NOT bitten or injured/attacked a person or another animal.

_____ The animal HAS bitten or injured/attacked a person or another animal. Provide explanation: _____

Veterinarian Signature & Date: _____

Veterinarian Contact Info (phone number, email address, office address): _____

- Form must be fully completed and dated within one year of travel date.
- A passenger may travel with up to three (3) trained service animals if required to perform work or tasks directly related to the passenger’s disability – a separate form is required for each animal
- Present completed form to an Allegiant representative at check-in for each flight